HIS TRIP TO FAIR

RALPH E. PALMER HAD MANY EXPERIENCES AT SEDALIA.

ATTENDED FAIR SCHOOL

Won the Right to Trip for This County in Examination—Had Great Time.

Ralph E. Palmer, the 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Palmer, living southwest of the city, writes as follows about his trip to the boys' state fair school at the Sedalia fair, he being the representative from Nodaway county:

The first I knew that there was going to be a boys' state fair school at the Sedalia fair was in the spring of 1913, when I read in one of our county papers that there was going to be an examination held in Maryville, our county seat, on Saturday, September 6, open to boys from 15 to 17 years of age, and that the examination would consist of five questions on agriculture, five in geography and five in arithmetic, and an essay of no less than 250 words on corn growing.

I went to town on the morning of the day that this examination was to be held. This was on Saturday, and one day the next week I saw in the paper that I was the lucky one. Of course I could not help but get the highest grade for I was the only boy that entered the contest. Then in a few days I received a letter from George W. Reavis of Jefferson City, director of the boys' state fair school, saying for me to bring at least two blankets, a pillow and a good supply of towels. The tents, cots and our meals were furnished us by the state.

The time did pass slowly from the 6th of September to the morning of the 28th, when my brother and I left for the station. Saturday night we went to bed with thoughts of getting up early and getting to the station, but when I woke the next morning the first thing that I heard was the rain falling on the roof. Of course this was very discouraging to me, so I missed the early train on the C. & B. & Q. and took the 10:45 on the Wabash. From Maryville we went to Conception Junction, where the Great Western and Wabash meet. We were to take the Great Western from there to Kansas City. When on the Wabash we heard a man say that there were just five more minutes until the Great Western train was due in there, but instead of five minutes it was just two hours and fifty minutes late. Finally the train did get there. We did not change cars until we got to Kansas City. After we got on the train at Conception Junction we got out our best friend, our lunch basket, that was packed by our mother before we started from home that morning. After our lunch we bought a paper and settled down to read the news. We made good time then and got to Kansas City at 6 o'clock. Then we took the street car for the union station, where we checked our grips for Sedalia. We then bought our tickets, having to change roads so many times we did not buy round trip tickets when we started. We found out what time we could get out of there for Sedalia, which was at 9:15, or just a wait of three hours and fifteen minutes, but the train that we were on was called the flyer and did not make but two or three stops between Kansas City and Sedalia. We arrived at Sedalia at 2 o'clock Monday morning. In the letter I got from Mr. Reavis he told me to put on my badge before I got to Sedalia, so that I would be known by the reception committee, but I guess the committee was at home in bed, just when I had almost begun to wish that I was at this time at night. Our badges were a piece of red ribbon about six inches long and two inches wide, that had printed on them "Boys' State Fair School, Sedalia, Mo., Sept. 27 to Oct. 3, 1913." We then went to the baggage room to get our grips. We found a young man there that knew something about a place where a couple of boys could stay the rest of the night. We got up at 5 o'clock. We paid for our beds and went uptown and got our breakfasts and then took a car for the grounds, which is about three miles southwest of the main part of town, we inquired where the tents for the state fair boys were, and went to them to leave our grips. The tents were about one-half mile north of the main entrance gate, or the street car line.

We met Ernest Farnsworth, one of the state fair boys, who had just arrived. When we were going to the tents we saw about fifty-five of the state fair boys going into one of the buildings, but we went to the tents and waited until Mr. Reavis came to give us our tent. The tents were already up and the cots in them. It was about 8 o'clock by this time and the lectures began at 9 o'clock. They were held in a large tent by our sleeping tents. Some of the tents held four boys and some only two. My brother was with me, so I knew who my bedmate was. The lectures were from 9 to 12 o'clock in the morning. There were about fifteen buildings in all on the grounds. The finest was the "Pettus County Homemakers." During the morning we attended the lectures and in the afternoon acted as ushers at the grand stand for the races. Then there came the balloon and the aeroplane flight. There was an automobile race, in which the runners went twenty-five miles in about twenty-seven minutes. The next day the auto and aeroplane were in a race in which the aeroplane came out ahead.

On Friday there was a $2,900 saddle stake, the largest saddle stake ever given in the world. At night we were ushers at the stock pavilion, so you see we were of a little good after all.

There were sixty-four boys in the camp, and a better group of boys was never assembled together in Missouri or any other state, or did they ever have a better manager than George W. Reavis of Jefferson City. I hope every county will be represented next year at the state fair school. One feature now talked of for next year is the arrangement to have both girls and boys in attendance at the state fair school. I wish to extend to the state fair board and the Maryville Commercial club my appreciation for the grand opportunity presented me, and last, but not least, I wish to thank George W. Reavis for his courtesy and interest shown to me during my stay at the state fair.

ALL REPRESENTED

MEMBERS OF VARIOUS CHURCHES ATTEND HOME MISSION MEETING.

TO SPREAD THE GOSPEL

Object of Meetings is to Arouse Interest in Missionary Work in America.

The first meeting of observance of Home Mission week was held in the First Baptist church Monday evening and was well attended, a good representation of the various churches forming the audience.

All the Protestant ministers of the city were present. Rev. L. M. Hale, pastor of the church, had charge of the meeting. The congregation joined in the singing of familiar hymns, and the choir sang an anthem, and Miss Marie Jones sang "My Heavenly Father Knoweth."

Rev. S. D. Harkness led the first prayer and then made announcement concerning the meetings for the week, explaining that the services were not for the purpose of raising money, but were primarily to secure the enlistment of the interest of men in the spread of the gospel and to arouse in them a missionary conscience that would result in the evangelization of America, which means the evangelization of the world.

The Bible lesson was read by Rev. Robert L. Finch of the First Christian church, the prayer following being led by Rev. Gilbert S. Cox of the First M. E. church.

Rev. J. D. Randolph of the Buchanan street Methodist church took up the subject of the evening, "Isolated Population," and used the words of Paul from his famous sermon on Mars' hill: "He giveth to all life, and breath, and all things; and hath made of one blood all nations of men for to dwell on all the face of the earth, and hath determined the times before appointed, and the bounds of their habitation; that they should seek the Lord, if haply they might feel after him, and find him, though they be not far from every one of us."

"The reading of the Scripture," said the minister, "leaves very little room for superciliousness or exaggerated race pride." The meaning of the subject for discussion is a body or group of people cut off from others by race or geographical boundary. There are three such groups within the United States, the Mountain Whites, the Indians and the Negroes. There are 1,000,000 of the white mountaineers dwelling mostly in the mountainous sections of Pennsylvania, the Virginias, Tennessee, North Georgia, Alabama and the Carolinas, all of whom are descendants of the early English settlers, and are of the purest Anglo-Saxon blood on the North American continent.

There are 265,883 Indians in the United States and 25,000 in Alaska. This race of people, instead of dying out, as is generally supposed, is increasing at the rate of 12 per cent.

There are 10,000,000 negroes in the United States and they form 11 per cent of the population.

There are certain historical facts that we cannot get away from. They are not to be studied from text books, but face to face and in some practical way that is yet to be worked out. We have been dogmatic or hypocritical in our estimations heretofore and it is now time for us to right about and look at things as they really are and determine on a course as christian men and women. It is for us to decide whether we shall rise or fall with the peoples within our borders who have a right to expect the highest leadership from us in the way of right living.

The brief study of the character of the three groups of people presented by Rev. Randolph was more than interesting and some facts and figures given were almost startling, and did not fail in showing the responsibility that is resting upon American citizens.

The meeting Tuesday evening will be held in the Buchanan street Methodist church, when Rev. Louis M. Hale of the First Baptist church will speak on "The Frontier."

Will Live in Kansas City.

Miss Mary Schaffer went to Kansas City Tuesday morning, where she expects to make her home. Miss Schaffer has been housekeeper at the home of Rev. Fr. Anselm for thirteen years, and has many friends here, especially in St. Mary's parish, who sincerely regret her departure.

DROVE WITH OXEN

N. B. LAMAR HAS DIARY OF TRIP TO CALIFORNIA IN 1850.

TIME OF GOLD FEVER

Tells of Trip From May 12th to August 25th—Is Still Very Easy to Read.

N. B. Lamar of this city, who is 84 years old, has an interesting diary book in his possession of the trip he took in 1850 to California, overland in a wagon driven by oxen. At that time, Mr. Lamar was 21 years old and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John M. Lamar, were living in the west part of Nodaway county near the old Lamar station.

Mr. Lamar made the trip in company with Joseph Roberts, Wm. P. Wyatt, and Samuel W. Boilers. They left Nodaway county on May 12 and arrived in California on August 25. Gold had been discovered in California and many people were leaving for that place. After spending two years in that country, Mr. Lamar returned to Nodaway county and so did Mr. Wyatt, who resided near the Burlington Junction neighborhood. The other two members of the party settled in Oregon.

The book that Mr. Lamar has tells of each day's journey of the trip to California. It was written by him at that time and is easy to read. On the first night's journey, the party camped on the Tarkio after making ten miles. Then it goes on with each day's journey. It speaks about the party crossing the desert, 45 miles long on July 3. They struck the desert in the afternoon of that day about three o'clock and traveled all night. The next afternoon they got over the desert to Green river. The book also says some roads are good and some are awfully bad.

SENDS LETTER ANYWAY.

A Filipino Merchant Makes Kick About Lost Pumphandle, Finds It and Adds Postscript.

Dorr H. Malone, who has been in the Philippine islands for the past several years, and who has been visiting in this county, tells of a letter which was written by a Filipino merchant to a wholesale distributing house in the Philippines. Mr. Malone, in speaking of it said:

"This man had been to school but very little, but was very proud of his knowledge of English. It might be well to explain that the First English words learned by the Filipinos are profanity, and they are especially proficient in the art of profanity in their own native language (the women are worse than the men). This letter was not written by a wild man but by one of the so-called civilized Filipinos of the better class. I received many such letters as this on different subjects every month or so. I brought a few of them home with me as sample copies for the benefit of those unsophisticated would-be statesmen and politicians in this country who advocate 'Independence for the Filipinos.'"

The letter is as follows:

"Dear Fren,
I got the valve witch i by fum you alrite but why for goods saks you doan send me no handle. wats the use a valve when she doan have no handle, i losso to me my customer shure thing you doan treet me rite. is my money not so good to you as the other fella. i wate 10 days and my customer he holler for water like hell for the valve. you no he is hot summer now and the win he no blow mesh. the valve she no got handle so what the hell i goan a do You doan send me the handle pretty quick i send her back and i goa norder some valve from Kramex Compancee.

He will then go to his home at Gaylord, Minn., to visit his parents and may conclude to remain there. His place is being taken at the depot by W. M. Crandall of Sioux City, Ia.

WENT TO SON-IN-LAW'S FUNERAL.

Dr. Beason of Newell, Ia., Who Died in Chicago, Was a Former Maryville Resident—Funeral Monday.

B. F. Lowrey and Mrs. May Clark Denny of this city and Miss Frankie Hollowell of Crete, Neb., went to Newell, Ia., Sunday night to attend the funeral services of Mr. Lowrey's son-in-law, Dr. Samuel A. Beason, who died in the Presbyterian hospital in Chicago, Saturday morning. He had been in poor health some time, but the seriousness of his malady was not known until he was operated on a week before his death, when his case was found to be incurable.

The funeral services were held Monday afternoon in the M. E. church of Newell, where Dr. Beason was a prominent member, having been a steward and teacher in the Sunday school since he went there fifteen years ago. He was also a Mason and an Odd Fellow. He was 54 years old. He married in Maryville twenty-one years ago the 24th day of the coming January Miss May Lowrey, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Lowrey of this city. He was a carpenter at the time, but in a short time after his marriage he went to Kansas City for study in the dental college, Mrs. Beason taking the course with him. After graduating from this school he went to Chicago and finished in a dental college. He and Mrs. Beason practiced together at Newell and were very successful. They had one child, Lucile, who survives with her mother.

Dr. Beason was a native of Ohio. He was twice married. His first wife died in Colorado, where they had gone from Maryville for the benefit of her health, but which proved unavailing.

DEATH OF ART M. SWAIN.

Passed Away at Home of His Parents, Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Swain, Near Ravenwood.

Art M. Swain, an esteemed business man of Parnell, died Tuesday morning at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Swain, who live three and one-half miles northwest of Ravenwood.

The funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon from the Methodist church of Parnell, conducted by the pastor, Rev. Tenney. The Masonic lodge, of which Mr. Swain had been a member six years, will have charge of the burial service.

Mr. Swain was taken ill two months ago with typhoid fever, and although he recovered from the fever he remained very weak. He was taken to Excelsior Springs with the hope the waters would restore him, but he continued to fail rapidly, and he was brought to his father's home to die.

Mr. Swain was but 30 years old. He was born in Worth county, near Worth, Mo., January 8, 1883. He had lived in the county, in the same vicinity of Ravenwood in which he died, since he was 10 years old, when his parents moved there.

He learned the harness makers' trade and became a reliable dealer. He was twice married. The first time on February 15, 1904, to Miss Susanne Dickson of Ravenwood. Her death occurred November 5, 1906, leaving him with a daughter, Bernice, 6 months old, who survives with her stepmother, who was Miss Margaret Beckman of Parnell, whom Mr. Swain married November 13, 1912. Two sisters also survive, Mrs. L. A. King and Mrs. Blanche Newcomer of near Ravenwood.

Four years ago Mr. Swain set up a harness shop in Parnell, and later added a hardware department, and was a successful business man when he was taken ill. He was held in high regard by all who knew him, socially or in a business way.

Arms for the insurgents and a fight to the finish seems to be the latest prospect in Mexico.

Suppose we accept the suggestion of Rev. Randolph and drop the term "dog town." No part of Maryville deserves such an opprobrious designation and it is not to the credit of the city to maintain it. A clean bird does not bring disgrace upon her own nest. Let us consign that term to the waste basket and then destroy the basket.

While Kansas City is stamping out the red light district and correcting morals generally, she should put on a few extra police and stop the wholesale slugging, sandbagging and shooting of innocent citizens by thugs, thieves and footpads. Kansas City apparently has enough of these for two or three cities of her size and protection of human life is not a matter for penurious economy.

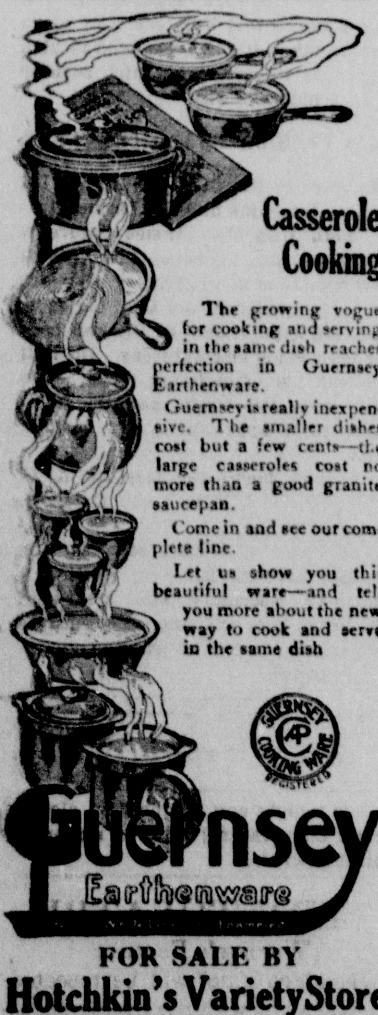

The customary number of prospective candidates against the present members of the Missouri delegation in congress are being mentioned but the chances are that the list will dwindle down to a few who will run for "place" rather than to win. The country at large seems to be well satisfied with the present administration and the way congress has been co-operating with it and will likely be content to let all continue in their good work. Besides the people of Missouri have learned, as other states have, that it does not pay to retire a good man as soon as he begins to get acquainted with his fellow members in congress and to have some influence and put in his place a new man. The administration has mapped out an extensive legislative program and there will be some very important constructive work begun that cannot be finished in this congress.

POLITICAL NOTES.

(From Democratic Press Bureau.)
The rich fellows who have run up against the income tax law say they cannot see through it. "There are none so blind as those who do not want to see."

The good roads spirit stimulated by the governor's good roads days and the splendid road laws passed by the last legislature under the governor's leadership are resulting in more systematic road work than was ever done in the history of Missouri. Missouri is being pulled out of the mud and the fine good roads sentiment will keep the pull tugging at it until mud holes shall be no more.

The police board of Kansas City has abolished the red light district, suppressed the immoral houses and made a cleaner city. The St. Louis police board has ordered the chief of police to rid the city of the vice districts and immoral houses. Under this administration the laws of the state are being enforced without parade and bluster, but with a sincerity and earnestness that gets the best results.

Farm credits are to be taken up at the regular session of congress, according to administration plans, so it is authoritatively announced, and a system devised for furnishing the farmers whose welfare was never a concern of the stand-pat Republican party.

Every state, save one, went Democratic at the elections held last week. In New York the Tammany-Sulzer fight demoralized the Democratic party and the Republicans elected a portion of the state ticket. The Progressives held their vote in Massachusetts and polled a heavy vote in New Jersey, Maryland and other places. It gave the standpatters a pain in the region of the abdomen and caused a chattering of their teeth and a knocking of knees. The result is really a greater blow to the old Republican organization than the election of last year, because it establishes the fact that the Progressive party is permanent—has come to stay.

COLLATERAL TAX SOUGHT.

Missouri University Sues for Five Per Cent of Illinoisan's Property in This County.

The question of whether charitable bequests made by non-residents who die without direct descendants, leaving property in Missouri, can be subjected to the collateral tax levied by this state for the benefit of the university, has been put up to the supreme court in the case growing out of the death of James Quirk of Kewanee, Ill., who died leaving property in Nodaway county, this being bequeathed to a Catholic bishop at Kewanee.

The Quirk case was on trial in circuit court here, the court finding that the estate was exempt from paying the tax. An appeal was taken to the supreme court.

The board of curators of the University of Missouri took the position that the bequest to the Catholic bishop was subject to the Missouri collateral tax of 5 per cent. The payment of the tax was resisted. Frederick N. Judson came into the case as amicus curiae, resisting its payment.

While the amount involved is not large, Judson is fighting against the establishment of a precedent for the taxing of charitable bequests. He said the constitution exempts property devoted to church or charity. He says the decision of the court would have a direct bearing upon charitable bequests aggregating $40,000 made by the late Joseph Pulitzer. Suits to collect the collateral tax upon the Pulitzer bequests are pending in the circuit court of St. Louis, Judson said.

The Quirk case has been argued before the supreme court, and probably will be decided during the October term.

FRUIT KEEPS DOCTOR AWAY.

The Family Diet Problem is Solved by Canning.

The balanced ration of many Americans today is made up something as follows:

Bread, butter, eggs, patent medicine, laxatives, meat and fish, potatoes.

Many Americans customarily suffer from one of the following complaints: Indigestion, constipation, rheumatism. A simple change of the daily menu might go a long way to remedy these ailments, according to the bureau of plant industry's specialist in charge of canning club work. This specialist recommends a change to a menu more in keeping with nature's plan, something as follows:

Bread, butter, fruit, vegetables, greens, meat, fish, eggs.

He recommends that every family provide a diet of fruit and vegetables for every day in the year. That would do much to eliminate the need for patent medicine laxatives that figure so prominently in many Americans' bill of fare. If every home kept on hand enough canned products so that there might be a can of fruits, a can of greens and a can of vegetables for every day of the winter, there would be little need for laxatives now so regularly bought from the corner drug store. There would also be great economy in the substitution of an inexpensive food for more expensive ones.

More home canning, done at the proper season, would enable the average family always to have the proper quantity of canned products, and would save an astonishing amount of food that goes to waste every year. It is estimated that more than 50 per cent of all the vegetables, greens, fruits and berries that grow in this country go to waste and are actually lost to those who need them. That is simply because housewives have not learned to care for these surplus products efficiently and to make them available for the winter months by canning.

That home canning may reduce the cost of living is not generally appreciated. Even those who are accustomed to use a supply of canned goods in the winter, do not realize that they sometimes pay transportation on goods from distant parts of the country, when there is a surplus of the same product in their own vicinity during the summer months, which might have been saved by home canning.

Practical experiments have been made in the laboratory of the bureau of plant industry's office of farm management, at Washington, from which every home, where canning is possible, might profit. This laboratory is not what is known as a "modern, well equipped laboratory." In fact, it does not look like a laboratory at all. It contains simply what every average home may have, and is nothing more nor less than an every-day kitchen. Here recipes that are applicable for every home have been thoroughly tested and are furnished to any housewife upon application.

ASQUITH EXPLAINS STAND ON MEXICO

Gives Reasons of Great Britain for Recognizing Huerta.

MAY RAISE EMBARGO ON ARMS

London, Nov. 11.—The prime minister, H. H. Asquith, discussed the Mexican situation in his annual speech at the lord mayor's banquet.

"Our interests in Mexico," said the prime minister, "call for vigilant care. Mexico is still in the throes of a civil war, but there never was and never has been any question of political intervention by Great Britain in the domestic concerns of Mexico, or in the Central or Southern American states."

"It is no part of our duty to prevent revolutions or control civil wars. The most we can do is to give what protection is possible on the coast to British subjects and property. There have been rumors that after the United States had adopted a line of their own in Mexico, we took a line calculated deliberately to thwart America. There is not a vestige of foundation for such a rumor."

"We have recognized President Huerta because, having neither the will nor the power to intervene, we were bound to deal with the de facto government and because, according to information then in our possession, there appeared to be no element except that of President Huerta and his supporters, which offered any prospect of the restoration of stability and order. This was on March 31. Very shortly afterwards, in answer to our inquiries, we were informed by the government of the United States that as regarded the recognition of President Huerta, no definite answer could be given except that it would wait longer before recognizing him."

"Since then there has been no change in policy and no departure of any kind. The change of ministers to Mexico involved no change of policy. We have the right to assume that whatever policy America adopts it will have regard for the legitimate commercial foreign interests in Mexico as well as its own. There has been an interchange of views with the utmost frankness and cordiality on both sides. Our diplomatic relation with the United States for a long time has been such that with the freest frankness of discussion on all matters that might from time to time arise we both feel the fullest assurance nothing can happen to disturb our common resolve to attain and maintain a sympathetic understanding."

May Raise Embargo on Arms.
Washington, Nov. 11.—Developments in the Mexican situation here emphasized the determination of the Washington government to refuse to recognize any of the acts of the new Mexican congress. It also was shown that President Wilson was considering the question of permitting exportation of arms to all factions in the southern republic.

The state department made public General Huerta's statement to the diplomatic corps in Mexico City, the burden of which was that the present election would be declared null and void, but that the newly elected members of congress would soon be installed; that the national legislature would soon resume the legislative powers which General Huerta had seen fit to assume during the interim between the arrest of the deputies for sedition and the induction of the new members of congress.

CUMMINS IS SNOWBOUND

Train Iowa Is Aboard Stalled in Drifts in Pennsylvania.

Washington, Pa., Nov. 11.—The passenger train of the Washington and Waynesburg railroad, a narrow gauge line, which had 100 passengers, including Senator Albert B. Cummins of Iowa, aboard, is stuck in snowdrifts three miles from this place. Senator Cummins had been visiting a relative at Carmichaels, Pa. The train, bound for Washington, became snowbound and a relief train was sent out. The engine of the relief train jumped the track within sight of the stranded train.

The entire party was without food for over twenty-four hours. Farmers went to their aid and all were taken to the farm houses. Roads are impassable on account of drifts. The passengers were forced to shovel snow to keep from freezing.

Employees of Eastern Roads Get Raise
New York, Nov. 11.—The long-lived controversy between railroads of the east and their conductors and trainmen, over the demand of the latter for more pay, is ended. The employees are granted an increase in wages averaging 7 per cent and totaling $6,000,000 annually—about half of what they asked—from Oct. 1, last, effective for one year. One hundred thousand men share in the increase.

MENDEL BEILIS IS ACQUITTED

Jury Frees Jew of Charge of Slaying Christian Boy.

STREET CROWDS DISPERSED.

Uneasy Feeling Prevails as Unknown What Capital Black Hundred Will Make of Finding That Killing Was Done in Brick Works.

Kiev, Russia, Nov. 11.—"Beilis is not guilty, but the murder was committed in the Zaitseff works." This was the verdict returned by the jury in the case of Mendel Beilis, the Jew accused of the alleged ritual murder of Andrew Yushinsky, a Christian boy.

When Beilis was taken out of the prisoners' room of the court for the last time and brought along the dingy corridor it was seen his guard had been increased to five soldiers. Two officers entered the dock with him. Beilis was outwardly calm. The court was crowded, but the deepest silence followed the entry of the prisoner and the judges. The jury then fled in and the foreman advanced a few paces from the box and read the verdict.

Beilis was standing with his hands on the dock rails. He seemed to be in a state of coma, but was striving to collect his wits and comprehend what was being said. When he realized the meaning of the verdict he fell back into his seat, sobbing convulsively. His counsel approached the dock and shook hands with him warmly.

The strictest precautions had been taken to prevent unauthorized persons from gaining access to the court room. The police were in great force, both within and outside the building.

Numerous Gatherings Dispersed.

All afternoon the streets of Kiev were crowded and after the verdict was pronounced the police dispersed numerous gatherings all over the city.

An uneasy feeling prevails, for it is not known what capital the Black Hundred will make out of the jury's finding that the murder was committed in the brick yard.

Anti-semitic agitators, many of whom are students, are openly inciting mobs to pogroms by affirming that the Jews purchased the verdict. The governor of Kiev, however, called a meeting of representatives of the Jews and promised that everything would be done to prevent outbreaks. He asked that the Jews on their part eschew jubilant demonstrations.

Story of the Case.

The trial of Beilis, a Russian of the Hebrew faith, for the alleged murder for the purpose of "blood ritual" of Andrew Yushinsky, a Christian lad, began on Oct. 8. The case caused an immense sensation, which stirred the whole of Russia.

The mutilated body of Yushinsky was discovered on March 25, 1911, in a cave on a suburban holding outside of Kiev. The hands were bound behind the back and there were forty-seven wounds on the body.

SHIP POUNDING TO PIECES

Lake Steamer in Perilous Position on Rocks of Manitow.

Calumet, Mich., Nov. 11.—An unidentified steamer is reported pounding to pieces on the rocks of Manitow Island, nine miles north of Keweenaw point, Lake Superior, with a blizzard raging about it. The steamer was reported by a passing vessel to fishermen, who did not learn the name of the boat.

A note signed "Davidson, first engineer; Stephenson, first mate," was dropped into the fishermen's boat with a request that the Eagle Harbor life savers be notified. The Eagle Harbor station made a vain attempt to reach the steamer. Word was sent to the United States Portage canal station and Captain McCormick started with lifesavers in an attempt to rescue the crew.

MANY SAILORS MAY BE LOST

Freighter Found Bottom Up on Lake Huron After Storm.

Detroit, Nov. 11.—While no lives are definitely known to have been lost in the terrific gales which have swept the great lakes, there seemed little doubt that many sailors have perished. A dozen or more staunch freighters have been driven ashore, one steamer capsized in the tremendous seas, and scores of other craft have been driven to shelter in widely scattered harbors.

Probably the worst of these disasters is the loss of an unidentified freighter, which was found bottom up in Lake Huron. The ship apparently was a 600-foot steel freighter. There is no trace of the crew, which must have numbered about forty, and mariners expressed the belief all hands had perished.

HITCHCOCK STILL OFF RESERVATION

Will Not Be Bound by Caucus Rule on Currency Bill.

Washington, Nov. 11.—Only in the sense that the Democratic party will be responsible for currency legislation and therefore must direct its progress does President Wilson believe the currency bill will be made a party measure. He told callers that he expected it would be a non-partisan bill when completed.

Senator Hitchcock made a hot attack on the proposal to take the currency question into a Democratic caucus. He is the one Democrat on the banking committee standing out against the administration. In a statement from the floor, he declared he would not yield his convictions "to meet the views of the president."

"I would not permit myself to be bound by the decisions of a secret caucus on an important matter of legislation like this," declared Senator Hitchcock.

Mr. Hitchcock spoke on "outside influences" brought on the committee when its members were told the president could not accept the decision of the majority.

Senator Kern, chairman of the Democratic caucus, replied to Senator Hitchcock, declaring it was not proposed to hold a binding caucus nor to vote on the currency bill in the conference.

Senator Reed (Dem.) declared he believed the problem should be worked out in a non-partisan way.

DECIDES AGAINST HADLEY

Agents of Land Company Cannot Appear Before Grand Jury.

Kansas City, Nov. 11.—No person under investigation by a federal grand jury may appear in his own behalf or have witnesses summoned before the jury in his own behalf, according to a decision given in the United States district court by Judge Frank A. Youmans. The decision, it is said, will have far-reaching results as affecting federal grand jury proceedings throughout the United States.

Judge Youmans' decree was the answer to an application by Herbert S. Hadley, former governor of Missouri, appearing for agents of the Florida fruit lands now under investigation by the federal grand jury, to have officers of the land company and witnesses favorable to it appear before a grand jury.

Mr. Hadley's petition charged that the agents of the department of justice were trying to suppress testimony in favor of his clients and witnesses favorable to the land company had been excused from appearing before the grand jury by Sylvester A. Rush, an assistant attorney general of the United States.

BRIDGEWATER.

As Mr. James Henry Rasco and family have decided to leave the farm and go to Barnard to make their home, a few of their relatives, neighbors and friends planned a surprise Sunday for them before they left our midst. Each one of the cooks took well filled baskets, and to say the table groaned beneath its weight of good things to eat would be stating it mild indeed. Everything one could think of to eat was to be had. Baked and fried chicken, chicken dressing, salads, pickles, pies, cake, honey and jelly. All fixed as nice and good as could be.

At noon a sumptuous spread was had out on the lawn so everybody could partake of the eatables together. Grandpa Rasco was able to be there and enjoy the feast with his children. Grandpa is in his nineties. The following were present:

Grandpa Rasco, Grandma Riddle, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Rasco and family, Mr. and Mrs. George W. HIS TRIP TO FAIR

ATTENDED FAIR SCHOOL

Ralph E. Palmer, the 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Palmer, living southwest of the city, writes as follows about his trip to the boys' state fair school at the Sedalia fair, he being the representative from Nodaway county:

The first I knew that there was going to be a boys' state fair school at the Sedalia fair was in the spring of 1913, when I read in one of our county papers that there was going to be an examination held in Maryville, our county seat, on Saturday, September 6, open to boys from 15 to 17 years of age, and that the examination would consist of five questions on agriculture, five in geography and five in arithmetic, and an essay of no less than 250 words on corn growing.

I went to town on the morning of the day that this examination was to be held. This was on Saturday, and one day the next week I saw in the paper that I was the lucky one. Of course I could not help but get the highest grade for I was the only boy that entered the contest. Then in a few days I received a letter from George W. Reavis of Jefferson City, director of the boys' state fair school, saying for me to bring at least two blankets, a pillow and a good supply of towels. The tents, cots and our meals were furnished us by the state.

The time did pass slowly from the 6th of September to the morning of the 28th, when my brother and I left for the station. Saturday night we went to bed with thoughts of getting up early and getting to the station, but when I woke the next morning the first thing that I heard was the rain falling on the roof. Of course this was very discouraging to me, so I missed the early train on the C., B. & Q., and took the 10:45 on the Wabash. From Maryville we went to Conception Junction, where the Great Western and Wabash meet. We were to take the Great Western from there to Kansas City. When on the Wabash we heard a man say that there were just five minutes until the Great Western train was due in there, but instead of five minutes it was just two hours and fifty minutes late. Finally the train did get there. We did not change cars until we got to Kansas City. After we got on the train at Conception Junction we got out our best friend, our lunch basket, that was packed by our mother before we started from home that morning. After our lunch we bought a paper and settled down to read the news. We made good time then and got to Kansas City at 6 o'clock. Then we took the street car for the union station, where we checked our grips for Sedalia. We then bought our tickets, having to change roads so many times we did not buy round trip tickets when we started. We found out what time we could get out of there for Sedalia, which was at 9:15, or just a wait of three hours and fifteen minutes, but the train that we were on was called the flyer and did not make but two or three stops between Kansas City and Sedalia. We arrived at Sedalia at 2 o'clock Monday morning. In the letter I got from Mr. Reavis he told me to put on my badge before I got to Sedalia, so that I would be known by the reception committee, but I guess the committee was at home in bed, just when I had almost begun to wish that I was at this time at night. Our badges were a piece of red ribbon about six inches long and two inches wide, that had printed on them "Boys' State Fair School, Sedalia, Mo., Sept. 27 to Oct. 3, 1913." We then went to the baggage room to get our grips. We found a young man there that knew something about a place where a couple of boys could stay the rest of the night. We got up at 5 o'clock. We paid for our beds and went uptown and got our breakfasts and then took a car for the grounds. When we got to the grounds, which is about three miles southwest of the main part of town, we inquired where the tents for the state fair boys were, and went to them to leave our grips. The tents were about one-half mile north of the main entrance gate, or the street car line.

We met Ernest Farnsworth, one of the state fair boys, who had just arrived. When we were going to the tents we saw about fifty-five of the state fair boys going into one of the buildings, but we went to the tents and waited until Mr. Reavis came to give us our tent. The tents were already up and the cots in them. It was about 8 o'clock by this time and the lectures began at 9 o'clock. They were held in a large tent by our sleeping tents. Some of the tents held four boys and some only two. My brother was with me, so I knew who my bedmate was. The lectures were from 9 to 12 o'clock in the morning. There were about fifteen buildings in all on the grounds. The finest was the "Pettus County Homemakers." During the morning we attended the lectures and in the afternoon acted as ushers at the grand stand for the races. Then there came the balloon and the aeroplane flight. There was an automobile race, in which the runners went twenty-five miles in about twenty-seven minutes. The next day the auto and aeroplane were in a race in which the aeroplane came out ahead.

On Friday there was a $2,900 saddle stake, the largest saddle stake ever given in the world. At night we were ushered at the stock pavilion, so you see we were of a little good after all. There were sixty-four boys in the camp, and a better group of boys was never assembled together in Missouri or any other state, or did they ever have a better manager than George W. Reavis of Jefferson City. I hope every county will be represented next year at the state fair school. One feature now talked of for next year is the arrangement to have both girls and boys in attendance at the state fair school. I wish to extend to the state fair board and the Maryville Commercial club my appreciation for the grand opportunity presented me, and last, but not least, I wish to thank George W. Reavis for his courtesy and interest shown to me during my stay at the state fair.

MEMBERS OF VARIOUS CHURCHES ATTEND HOME MISSION MEETING.

TO SPREAD THE GOSPEL

Object of Meetings is to Arouse Interest in Missionary Work in America.

The first meeting of observance of Home Mission week was held in the First Baptist church Monday evening and was well attended, a good representation of the various churches forming the audience.

All the Protestant ministers of the city were present. Rev. L. M. Hale, pastor of the church, had charge of the meeting. The congregation joined in the singing of familiar hymns, and the choir sang an anthem, and Miss Marie Jones sang "My Heavenly Father Knoweth."

Rev. S. D. Harkness led the first prayer and then made announcement concerning the meetings for the week, explaining that the services were not for the purpose of raising money, but were primarily to secure the enlistment of the interest of men in the spread of the gospel and to arouse in them a missionary conscience that would result in the evangelization of America, which means the evangelization of the world.

The Bible lesson was read by Rev. Robert L. Finch of the First Christian church, the prayer following being led by Rev. Gilbert S. Cox of the First M. E. church.

Rev. J. D. Randolph of the Buchanan street Methodist church took up the subject of the evening, "Isolated Population," and used the words of Paul from his famous sermon on Mars' hill: "He giveth to all life, and breath, and all things; and hath made of one blood all nations of men for to dwell on all the face of the earth, and hath determined the times before appointed, and the bounds of their habitation; that they should seek the Lord, if haply they might feel after him, and find him, though they be not far from every one of us."

"The reading of the Scripture," said the minister, "leaves very little room for superciliousness or exaggerated race pride." The meaning of the subject for discussion is a body or group of people cut off from others by race or geographical boundary. There are three such groups within the United States, the Mountain Whites, the Indians and the Negroes. There are 1,000,000 of the white mountaineers dwelling mostly in the mountainous sections of Pennsylvania, the Virginias, Tennessee, North Georgia, Alabama and the Carolinas, all of whom are descendants of the early English settlers, and are of the purest Anglo-Saxon blood on the North American continent.

There are 265,883 Indians in the United States and 25,000 in Alaska. This race of people, instead of dying out, as is generally supposed, is increasing at the rate of 12 per cent.

There are 10,000,000 negroes in the United States and they form 11 per cent of the population.

There are certain historical facts that we cannot get away from. They are not to be studied from text books, but face to face and in some practical way that is yet to be worked out. We have been dogmatic or hypocritical in our estimations heretofore and it is now time for us to right about and look at things as they really are and determine on a course as christian men and women. It is for us to decide whether we shall rise or fall with the peoples within our borders who have a right to expect the highest leadership from us in the way of right living.

The brief study of the character of the three groups of people presented by Rev. Randolph was more than interesting and some facts and figures given were almost startling, and did not fail in showing the responsibility that is resting upon American citizens.

The meeting Tuesday evening will be held in the Buchanan street Methodist church, when Rev. Louis M. Hale of the First Baptist church will speak on "The Frontier."

Will Live in Kansas City.

Miss Mary Schaffer went to Kansas City Tuesday morning, where she expects to make her home. Miss Schaffer has been housekeeper at the home of Rev. Fr. Anselm for thirteen years, and has many friends here, especially in St. Mary's parish, who sincerely regret her departure.

DROVE WITH OXEN

TIME OF GOLD FEVER

Tells of Trip From May 12th to August 25th—Is Still Very Easy to Read.

N. B. Lamar of this city, who is 84 years old, has an interesting diary book in his possession of the trip he took in 1850 to California, overland in a wagon driven by oxen. At that time, Mr. Lamar was 21 years old and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John M. Lamar, were living in the west part of Nodaway county near the old Lamar station.

Mr. Lamar made the trip in company with Joseph Roberts, Wm. P. Wyatt, and Samuel W. Boilers. They left Nodaway county on May 12 and arrived in California on August 25. Gold had been discovered in California and many people were leaving for that place. After spending two years in that country, Mr. Lamar returned to Nodaway county and so did Mr. Wyatt, who resided near the Burlington Junction neighborhood. The other two members of the party settled in Oregon.

The book that Mr. Lamar has tells of each day's journey of the trip to California. It was written by him at that time and is easy to read. On the first night's journey, the party camped on the Tarkio after making ten miles. Then it goes on with each day's journey.

It speaks about the party crossing the desert, 45 miles long on July 3. They struck the desert in the afternoon of that day about three o'clock and traveled all night. The next afternoon they got over the desert to Green river. The book also says some roads are good and some are awfully bad.

SENDS LETTER ANYWAY.

A Filipino Merchant Makes Kick About Lost Pumphandle, Finds It and Adds Postscript.

Dorr H. Malone, who has been in the Philippine islands for the past several years, and who has been visiting in this county, tells of a letter which was written by a Filipino merchant to a wholesale distributing house in the Philippines. Mr. Malone, in speaking of it said:

"This man had been to school but very little, but was very proud of his knowledge of English. It might be well to explain that the First English words learned by the Filipinos are profanity, and they are especially proficient in the art of profanity in their own native language (the women are worse than the men). This letter was not written by a wild man but by one of the so-called civilized Filipinos of the better class. I received many such letters as this on different subjects every month or so. I brought a few of them home with me as sample copies for the benefit of those unsophisticated would-be statesmen and politicians in this country who advocate 'Independence for the Filipinos.'"

The letter is as follows:

"Dear Fren,
"I got the valve witch i by fum you alrite but why for goods saks you doan send me no handle. wats the use a valve when she doan have no handle. I losso to me my customer shure thing you doan treet me rite. is my money not so good to you as the other fella. B. F. Lowrey and Mrs. May Clark Denny of this city and Miss Frankie Hollowell of Crete, Neb., went to Newell, Ia., Sunday night to attend the funeral services of Mr. Lowrey's son-in-law, Dr. Samuel A. Beason, who died in the Presbyterian hospital in Chicago, Saturday morning. He had been in poor health some time, but the seriousness of his malady was not known until he was operated on a week before his death, when his case was found to be incurable.

The funeral services were held Monday afternoon in the M. E. church of Newell, where Dr. Beason was a prominent member, having been a steward and teacher in the Sunday school since he went there fifteen years ago. He was also a Mason and an Odd Fellow. He was 54 years old. He married in Maryville twenty-one years ago the 24th day of the coming January Miss May Lowrey, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Lowrey of this city. He was a carpenter at the time, but in a short time after his marriage he went to Kansas City for study in the dental college, Mrs. Beason taking the course with him. After graduating from this school he went to Chicago and finished in a dental college. He and Mrs. Beason practiced together at Newell and were very successful. They had one child, Lucile, who survives with her mother.

Dr. Beason was a native of Ohio. He was twice married. His first wife died in Colorado, where they had gone from Maryville for the benefit of her health, but which proved unavailing.

DEATH OF ART M. SWAIN.

Art M. Swain, an esteemed business man of Parnell, died Tuesday morning at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Swain, who live three and one-half miles northwest of Ravenwood.

The funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon from the Methodist church of Parnell, conducted by the pastor, Rev. Tenney. The Masonic lodge, of which Mr. Swain had been a member six years, will have charge of the burial service.

Mr. Swain was taken ill two months ago with typhoid fever, and although he recovered from the fever he remained very weak. He was taken to Excelsior Springs with the hope the waters would restore him, but he continued to fail rapidly, and he was brought to his father's home to die.

Mr. Swain was but 30 years old. He was born in Worth county, near Worth, Mo., January 8, 1883. He had lived in the county, in the same vicinity of Ravenwood in which he died, since he was 10 years old, when his parents moved there.

He learned the harness makers' trade and became a reliable dealer. He was twice married. The first time on February 15, 1904, to Miss Susanne Dickson of Ravenwood. Her death occurred November 5, 1906, leaving him with a daughter, Bernice, 6 months old, who survives with her stepmother, who was Miss Margaret Beekman of Parnell, whom Mr. Swain married November 13, 1912. Two sisters also survive, Mrs. L. A. King and Mrs. Blanche Newcomer of near Ravenwood.

Four years ago Mr. Swain set up a harness shop in Parnell, and later added a hardware department, and was a successful business man when he was taken ill. He was held in high regard by all who knew him, socially or in a business way.

Arms for the insurgents and a fight to the finish seems to be the latest prospect in Mexico.

Suppose we accept the suggestion of Rev. Randolph and drop the term "dog town." No part of Maryville deserves such an opprobrious designation and it is not to the credit of the city to maintain it. A clean bird does not bring disgrace upon her own nest. Let us consign that term to the waste basket and then destroy the basket.

While Kansas City is stamping out the red light district and correcting morals generally, she should put on a few extra police and stop the wholesale slugging, sandbagging and shooting of innocent citizens by thugs, thieves and footpads. Kansas City apparently has enough of these for two or three cities of her size and protection of human life is not a matter for penurious economy.

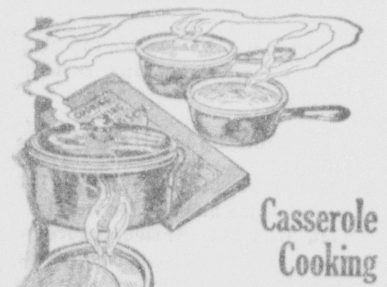

The customary number of prospective candidates against the present members of the Missouri delegation in congress are being mentioned but the chances are that the list will dwindle down to a few who will run for "place" rather than to win. The country at large seems to be well satisfied with the present administration and the way congress has been co-operating with it and will likely be content to let all continue in their good work. Besides the people of Missouri have learned, as other states have, that it does not pay to retire a good man as soon as he begins to get acquainted with his fellow members in congress and to have some influence and put in his place a new man. The administration has mapped out an extensive legislative program and there will be some very important constructive work begun that cannot be finished in this congress.

POLITICAL NOTES.

(From Democratic Press Bureau.)

The rich fellows who have run up against the income tax law say they cannot see through it. "There are none so blind as those who do not want to see."

The good roads spirit stimulated by the governor's good roads days and the splendid road laws passed by the last legislature under the governor's leadership are resulting in more systematic road work than was ever done in the history of Missouri. Missouri is being pulled out of the mud and the fine good roads sentiment will keep the pull tugging at it until mud holes shall be no more.

The police board of Kansas City has abolished the red light district, suppressed the immoral houses and made a cleaner city. The St. Louis police board has ordered the chief of police to rid the city of the vice districts and immoral houses. Under this administration the laws of the state are being enforced without parade and bluster, but with a sincerity and earnestness that gets the best results.

Farm credits are to be taken up at the regular session of congress, according to administration plans, so it is authoritatively announced, and a system devised for furnishing the farmers whose welfare was never a concern of the stand-pat Republican party.

Every state, save one, went Democratic at the elections held last week. In New York the Tammany-Sulzer fight demoralized the Democratic party and the Republicans elected a portion of the state ticket. The Progressives held their vote in Massachusetts and polled a heavy vote in New Jersey, Maryland and other places. It gave the stand-patters a pain in the region of the abdomen and caused a chattering of their teeth and a knocking of knees. The result is really a greater blow to the old Republican organization than the election of last year, because it establishes the fact that the Progressive party is permanent—has come to stay.

COLLATERAL TAX SOUGHT.

Missouri University Sues for Five Per Cent of Illinoisan's Property in This County.

The question of whether charitable bequests made by non-residents who die without direct descendants, leaving property in Missouri, can be subjected to the collateral tax levied by this state for the benefit of the university, has been put up to the supreme court in the case growing out of the death of James Quirk of Kewana, Ill., who died leaving property in Nodaway county, this being bequeathed to a Catholic bishop at Kewana.

The Quirk case was on trial in circuit court here, the court finding that the estate was exempt from paying the tax. An appeal was taken to the supreme court.

The board of curators of the University of Missouri took the position that the bequest to the Catholic bishop was subject to the Missouri collateral tax of 5 per cent. The payment of the tax was resisted. Frederick N. Judson came into the case as amicus curiae, resisting its payment.

While the amount involved is not large, Judson is fighting against the establishment of a precedent for the taxing of charitable bequests. He said the constitution exempts property devoted to church or charity. He says the decision of the court would have a direct bearing upon charitable bequests aggregating $40,000 made by the late Joseph Pulitzer. Suits to collect the collateral tax upon the Pulitzer bequests are pending in the circuit court of St. Louis, Judson said.

The Quirk case has been argued before the supreme court, and probably will be decided during the October term.

FRUIT KEEPS DOCTOR AWAY.

The Family Diet Problem is Solved by Canning.

The balanced ration of many Americans today is made up something as follows:

Bread, butter, eggs, patent medicine, laxatives, meat and fish, potatoes.

Many Americans customarily suffer from one of the following complaints: Indigestion, constipation, rheumatism. A simple change of the daily menu might go a long way to remedy these ailments, according to the bureau of plant industry's specialist in charge of canning club work. This specialist recommends a change to a menu more in keeping with nature's plan, something as follows:

Bread, butter, fruit, vegetables, greens, meat, fish, eggs.

He recommends that every family provide a diet of fruit and vegetables for every day in the year. That would do much to eliminate the need for patent medicine laxatives that figure so prominently in many Americans' bill of fare. If every home kept on hand enough canned products so that there might be a can of fruits, a can of greens and a can of vegetables for every day of the winter, there would be little need for laxatives now so regularly bought from the corner drug store. There would also be great economy in the substitution of an inexpensive food for more expensive ones.

More home canning, done at the proper season, would enable the average family always to have the proper quantity of canned products, and would save an astonishing amount of food that goes to waste every year. It is estimated that more than 50 per cent of all the vegetables, greens, fruits and berries that grow in this country go to waste and are actually lost to those who need them. That is simply because housewives have not learned to care for these surplus products efficiently and to make them available for the winter months by canning.

That home canning may reduce the cost of living is not generally appreciated. Even those who are accustomed to use a supply of canned goods in the winter, do not realize that they sometimes pay transportation on goods from distant parts of the country, when there is a surplus of the same product in their own vicinity during the summer months, which might have been saved by home canning.

Practical experiments have been made in the laboratory of the bureau of plant industry's office of farm management, at Washington, from which every home, where canning is possible, might profit. This laboratory is not what is known as a "modern, well equipped laboratory." In fact, it does not look like a laboratory at all. It contains simply what every average home may have, and is nothing more nor less than an every-day kitchen. Here recipes that are applicable for every home have been thoroughly tested and are furnished to any housewife upon application.

ASQUITH EXPLAINS STAND ON MEXICO

Gives Reasons of Great Britain for Recognizing Huerta.

MAY RAISE EMBARGO ON ARMS

London, Nov. 11.—The prime minister, H. H. Asquith, discussed the Mexican situation in his annual speech at the lord mayor's banquet.

"Our interests in Mexico," said the prime minister, "call for vigilant care. Mexico is still in the throes of a civil war, but there never was and never has been any question of political intervention by Great Britain in the domestic concerns of Mexico, or in the Central or Southern American states."

"It is no part of our duty to prevent revolutions or control civil wars. The most we can do is to give what protection is possible on the coast to British subjects and property. There have been rumors that after the United States had adopted a line of their own in Mexico, we took a line calculated deliberately to thwart America. There is not a vestige of foundation for such a rumor."

"We have recognized President Huerta because, having neither the will nor the power to intervene, we were bound to deal with the de facto government and because, according to information then in our possession, there appeared to be no element except that of President Huerta and his supporters, which offered any prospect of the restoration of stability and order. This was on March 31. Very shortly afterwards, in answer to our inquiries, we were informed by the government of the United States that as regarded the recognition of President Huerta, no definite answer could be given except that it would wait longer before recognizing him."

"Since then there has been no change in policy and no departure of any kind. The change of ministers to Mexico involved no change of policy. We have the right to assume that whatever policy America adopts it will have regard for the legitimate commercial foreign interests in Mexico as well as its own. There has been an interchange of views with the utmost frankness and cordiality on both sides. Our diplomatic relation with the United States for a long time has been such that with the freest frankness of discussion on all matters that might from time to time arise we both feel the fullest assurance nothing can happen to disturb our common resolve to attain and maintain a sympathetic understanding."

May Raise Embargo on Arms.
Washington, Nov. 11.—Developments in the Mexican situation here emphasized the determination of the Washington government to refuse to recognize any of the acts of the new Mexican congress. It also was shown that President Wilson was considering the question of permitting exportation of arms to all factions in the southern republic.

The state department made public General Huerta's statement to the diplomatic corps in Mexico City, the burden of which was that the present election would be declared null and void, but that the newly elected members of congress would soon be installed; that the national legislature would soon resume the legislative powers which General Huerta had seen fit to assume during the interim between the arrest of the deputies for sedition and the induction of the new members of congress.

CUMMINS IS SNOWBOUND

Train Iowa Is Aboard Stalled in Drifts in Pennsylvania.

Washington, Pa. Nov. 11.—The passenger train of the Washington and Waynesburg railroad, a narrow gauge line, which had 109 passengers, including Senator Albert B. Cummins of Iowa, aboard, is stuck in snowdrifts three miles from this place. Senator Cummins had been visiting a relative at Carmichaels, Pa. The train, bound for Washington, became snowbound and a relief train was sent out. The engine of the relief train jumped the track within sight of the stranded train.

The entire party was without food for over twenty-four hours. Farmers went to their aid and all were taken to the farm houses. Roads are impassable on account of drifts. The passengers were forced to shovel snow to keep from freezing.

Employees of Eastern Roads Get Raise
New York, Nov. 11.—The long-lived controversy between railroads of the east and their conductors and trainmen, over the demand of the latter for more pay, is ended. The employees are granted an increase in wages averaging 7 per cent and totaling $6,000,000 annually—about half of what they asked—from Oct. 1, last, effective for one year. One hundred thousand men share in the increase.

MENDEL BEILIS IS ACQUITTED

Jury Frees Jew of Charge of Slaying Christian Boy.

STREET CROWDS DISPERSED.

Uneasy Feeling Prevails as Unknown What Capital Black Hundred Will Make of Finding That Killing Was Done in Brick Works.

Kiev, Russia, Nov. 11.—"Beilis is not guilty, but the murder was committed in the Zaitoff works." This was the verdict returned by the jury in the case of Mendel Beilis, the Jew accused of the alleged ritual murder of Andrew Yushinsky, a Christian boy.

When Beilis was taken out of the prisoners' room of the court for the last time and brought along the dingy corridor it was seen his guard had been increased to five soldiers. Two officers entered the dock with him. Beilis was outwardly calm. The court was crowded, but the deepest silence followed the entry of the prisoner and the judges. The jury then filed in and the foreman advanced a few paces from the box and read the verdict.

Beilis was standing with his hands on the dock rails. He seemed to be in a state of coma, but was striving to collect his wits and comprehend what was being said. When he realized the meaning of the verdict he fell back into his seat, sobbing convulsively. His counsel approached the dock and shook hands with him warmly.

The strictest precautions had been taken to prevent unauthorized persons from gaining access to the court room. The police were in great force, both within and outside the building.

Numerous Gatherings Dispersed.

All afternoon the streets of Kiev were crowded and after the verdict was pronounced the police dispersed numerous gatherings all over the city.

An uneasy feeling prevails, for it is not known what capital the Black Hundred will make out of the jury's finding that the murder was committed in the brick yard.

Anti-semitic agitators, many of whom are students, are openly inciting mobs to pogroms by affirming that the Jews purchased the verdict. The governor of Kiev, however, called a meeting of representatives of the Jews and promised that everything would be done to prevent outbreaks. He asked that the Jews on their part eschew jubilant demonstrations.

Story of the Case.

The trial of Beilis, a Russian of the Hebrew faith, for the alleged murder for the purpose of "blood ritual" of Andrew Yushinsky, a Christian lad, began on Oct. 8. The case caused an immense sensation, which stirred the whole of Russia.

The mutilated body of Yushinsky was discovered on March 25, 1911, in a cave on a suburban holding outside of Kiev. The hands were found behind the back and there were forty-seven wounds on the body.

SHIP POUNDING TO PIECES

Lake Steamer in Perilous Position on Rocks of Manitou.

Calumet, Mich. Nov. 11.—An unidentified steamer is reported pounding to pieces on the rocks of Manitou island, nine miles north of Keweenaw point, Lake Superior, with a blizzard raging about it. The steamer was reported by a passing vessel to fishermen, who did not learn the name of the boat.

A note signed "Davidson, first engineer; Stephenson, first mate," was dropped into the fishermen's boat with a request that the Eagle Harbor life-savers be notified. The Eagle Harbor station made a vain attempt to reach the steamer. Word was sent to the United States Portage canal station and Captain McCormick started with lifesavers in an attempt to rescue the crew.

Freighter Found Bottom Up on Lake Huron After Storm.

Detroit, Nov. 11.—While no lives are definitely known to have been lost in the terrific gales which have swept the great lakes, there seemed little doubt that many sailors have perished. A dozen or more staunch freighters have been driven ashore, one steamer capsized in the tremendous seas, and scores of other craft have been driven to shelter in widely scattered harbors. Probably the worst of these disasters is the loss of an unidentified freighter, which was found bottom up in Lake Huron. The ship apparently was a 600-foot steel freighter. There is no trace of the crew, which must have numbered about forty, and mariners expressed the belief all hands had perished.

CASCARETS ALWAYS STRAIGHTEN YOU UP

If Costive, Headachy, Bilious, Stomach Sour, Breath Bad—Clean Your Liver and Bowels.

Get a 10-cent box now. You men and women who can't get feeling right—who have headache, coated tongue, foul taste and foul breath, dizziness, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous and upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach, or have headache and feel worn out. Are you keeping your bowels clean with Cascarets, or merely forcing a passageway every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil?

Cascarets work while you sleep; cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested, fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poison in the bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box from any drug store will keep your stomach sweet; liver and bowels regular, and head clear for months. Don't forget the children. They love Cascarets because they taste good—never gripe or sicken.—Advertisement.

HITCHCOCK STILL OFF RESERVATION

Will Not Be Bound by Caucus
Rule on Currency Bill.

Washington, Nov. 11.—Only in the sense that the Democratic party will be responsible for currency legislation and therefore must direct its progress does President Wilson believe the currency bill will be made a party measure. He told callers that he expected it would be a non-partisan bill when completed.

Senator Hitchcock made a hot attack on the proposal to take the currency question into a Democratic caucus. He is the one Democrat on the banking committee standing out against the administration. In a statement from the floor, he declared he would not yield his convictions "to meet the views of the president."

"I would not permit myself to be bound by the decisions of a secret caucus on an important matter of legislation like this," declared Senator Hitchcock.

Mr. Hitchcock spoke on "outside influences" brought on the committee when its members were told the president could not accept the decision of the majority.

Senator Kern, chairman of the Democratic caucus, replied to Senator Hitchcock, declaring it was not proposed to hold a binding caucus nor to vote on the currency bill in the conference.

DECIDES AGAINST HADLEY

Agents of Land Company Cannot Appear Before Grand Jury.

Kansas City, Nov. 11.—No person under investigation by a federal grand jury may appear in his own behalf or have witnesses summoned before the jury in his own behalf, according to a decision given in the United States district court by Judge Frank A. Youmans. The decision, it is said, will have far-reaching results as affecting federal grand jury proceedings throughout the United States.

Judge Youmans' decree was the answer to an application by Herbert S. Hadley, former governor of Missouri, appealing for agents of the Florida fruit lands, now under investigation by the federal grand jury, to have officers of the land company and witnesses favorable to it appear before a grand jury.

Mr. Hadley's petition charged that the agents of the department of justice were trying to suppress testimony in favor of his clients and witnesses favorable to the land company had been excused from appearing before the grand jury by Sylvester A. Rush, an assistant attorney general of the United States.

BULLETS FLY IN RAIL STATION

Kansas Farmer Shoots Land Owner Four Times as Crowd Looks On.

Cedar Junction, Kan., Nov. 11.—While the Santa Fe railroad station here was filled with people Ralph R. Wooden, a farmer, shot four times at Edward Barrett, a wealthy land owner, wounded Barrett in the leg, killed a dog lying at the feet of a bystander and himself received a fractured skull when the station agent felled him with a wagon spoke. None of the bystanders was hurt. Wooden was taken to a hospital. Officers here asserted he would be placed under arrest when he recovered.

Four Men Killed in Wreck.

Detroit, Nov. 11.—Four men were killed in a wreck on the Grand Trunk railroad at Waukegan, Ont., when train No. 91 collided with an engine in a blinding snowstorm.

BRIDGEWATER.

As Mr. James Henry Rasco and family have decided to leave the farm and go to Barnard to make their home, a few of their relatives, neighbors and friends planned a surprise Sunday for them before they left our midst. Each one of the cooks took well filled baskets, and to say the table groaned beneath its weight of good things to eat would be stating it mild indeed. Everything one could think of to eat was to be had. Baked and fried chicken, chicken dressing, salads, pickles, pies, cake, honey and jelly. All fixed as nice and good as could be.

At noon a sumptuous spread was had out on the lawn so everybody could partake of the eatables together. Grandpa Rasco was able to be there and enjoy the feast with his children. Grandpa is in his nineties. The following were present:

Grandpa Rasco, Grandma Riddle, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Rasco and family, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Rasco, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rasco and family, Mr. and Mrs. William Rasco and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rasco and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Rasco, Mr. and Mrs. George Rasco, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Beattie and family, Mr. and Mrs. William Beattie and family, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hagan, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hagan, Mr. and Mrs. Oren Lanning, Mr. and Mrs. John Ramey and family, Mr. and Mrs. Brice Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Willson and daughter, Miss Mattie Willson, Mr. and Mrs. Art Logan and family, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Nease and daughter, Mr. Bruce Stonebocker, Paul and Myrtle Ryan, Elbur Fuller, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar M. Lanning and the host and hostess and family.
